

“LIBRARIES – FOR READERS ONLY?”

1/1

“Libraries – for readers only?” That is not what the years have shown me.
Libraries are where ... everything is to share.

From A to Z

Libraries are the place to be.

Art Collaborative Shows allow local artist to glow.

Bridge Club Meetings bring friends greetings.

Crafts of all kinds color young minds.

DVD's galore dare minds to explore.

Entertaining events call...everyone do not stall.

French lessons are at eleven, finger play sessions are at seven.

Grandparents reading books really gets children hooked.

Historical Societies feed the future with their seeds.

Internet surf and learn to install artificial turf.

Junior reading programs pronounce, “Just looking at pictures counts!”

Knowledge is gained and boredom is refrained.

Language barriers are broken when ESL learners have spoken.

Magazines in racks make it easy to find the facts.

Newspapers tell you what they say now and every day.

Opportunities are what you find when you open your mind.

P.J. Story Time teaches parents and children how to rhyme.

Quiet escapes allow quintessential ideas to take shape.

Raffles encourage grins with rewards from bins.

Summer activities are cool and they supplement school.

Tutors stop what's impeding teenagers from understanding reading.

Unique collections of the heart build understanding of culture and art.

Videos teach in a visual way and can be viewed any time of day.

Wii for adults at night, Walk and Talk in the daylight.

Xerox copies and see x-rays of poppies.

Yielding activities inspire youth to transpire.

Zealous librarians glow during zany magic shows.

Libraries are the place to be.
