

“LIBRARIES – FOR READERS ONLY?”

Libraries are not only for readers. Libraries are for readers and for people who want to start reading, get videos, and do different things. At my library they display collections of things every month. My favorite was the colorful bubble gum collection. At my library friends can pick games and play together. They have board games and computer games. At my library you can win raffles and enter contests. This summer I won a wooden airplane, a book, and a pillowcase. What can you do at your library?
